LIFE INSURANCE

The following letter is one forwarded by the General Manager of the Royal Bank of Canada to the Secretary of the Life Club writes:

Geo. H. Hunt, Esq.,
Toronto, Ont.

Dear Sir,—Replying to your letter of the 10th inst., in reference to the value of life insurance, I may say that our confidence in a borrower is always enhanced by the fact that he carries a life insurance policy. The wisdom of providing for unforeseen contingencies is an indication of conservatism. Partnership and individual insurance policies assigned to the bank as collateral security for advances, have frequently saved the bank from loss when there was no other visible source of repayment, and saved the man's family from the stigma of debt.

Yours truly,

E. L. Pease, Managing Director

Cannot Pay The Price For New Telephone Buildings

Cannot pay the price for telephone buildings—head

That building costs are on the up grade is indicated by what has happened to a program that the provincial telephone department has had in mind for the erection of twelve new exchanges in as many towns in different parts of the province. Tenders for these buildings have been opened, but none of them will be accepted, for the reason that the prices quoted were away in excess of the estimates.

The buildings that the department proposes to build are one story, brick structures, costing in normal times about $2,000 each. The tenders just received, which were submitted by some ten or twelve different firms, ran from $2,000 to $12,000 and Deputy Minister Norman Harvey says that there will be no contracts awarded at these prices. It is thought that a new plan must now be decided upon, and to that end some of the buildings most urgently needed will still be put up this fall.

Wheat Board Dissolved

OTTAWA, Aug. 29.—With the going out of existence of the wheat control board on Tuesday of this week, the business of buying and selling Canada's most important agricultural product will once more become the business of private firms and individuals. With the dissolving of the board there will be no government and the fixing of prices for flour and wheat and there is considerable anxiety as to what the immediate effect of the restoration of the free market of things, with prices based on market conditions, will be.

The government's decision to do away with the wheat board which handled the 1919 wheat crop on a basis of a fixed initial price, plus what the market would bring, has been taken in the face of considerable objection. Curiously enough much of this has come from wheat growers who strongly opposed control last autumn. The explanation of this peculiar situation doubtless lies in the fact that wheat control worked out much more successfully and realized for the farmers more for the grain than they thought it would, with the result that this autumn they have in many cases expressed a preference for it continuing.

The attitude of the government is that under existing conditions when the allied governments are not purchasing immense quantities jointly, it is not advisable that control should be maintained. It has been pointed out, however, that at the last session of parliament, power was taken to re-institute the wheat board and that control of the handling of the 1920 crop should be deemed necessary to do so.

An interesting feature of the situation in Great Britain is that the bread subsidy paid by the government has been removed but bread prices will not, it is expected, be increased. It is predicted that prices obtained for wheat in the British market this year will be approximately the same as were paid for the 1919 crop.

Remember the date of the big Didsbury fair—Sept. 15 and 16.

The man who is content that you would be willing to do him any kind of a favor for him is the one who seems to need help the least.

Says Prices Will Drop Next Spring

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28, (Reed) prices, in the opinion of the Federal Reserve Board, will decline slightly during the coming fall and winter months, and will slump next spring to still lower levels.

Changes in the price of raw materials, which were reported to have declined sharply during the past few weeks, will not show their effect, according to the board, in retail prices until early next spring.

Passing Events

Second only to the perverted view held by a vast majority of people that the chief aim in life is the amassing of money and the enjoyment of those fleeting pleasure and luxuries which money can procure, is the gullibility of the public in snatching at get-rich-quick schemes which unscrupulous but clever promoters and swindlers dangle before the people. The idea that there is something fine and noble in work itself, in worthy ambitions realized in service well rendered, and that a monetary reward is not the be-all and end-all of existence appears to be fast dying out, and a person's success or failure in life has come to be measured by the standard of his success in amassing money. It is a false standard and an unsatisfactory one. The truly successful men and women are those who can point with conscious pride to some real achievement benefiting themselves and their fellow men.

The desire to get money not honestly earned—which can only be gained by one individual through the loss by some other individual—and to get it quickly and without effort is the bait used or every trap set for the unwary, and for every one who does obtain wealth in this ill-gotten way there are hundreds of victims who lose. The latest example is afforded by the operations of a man named Penzi, at Boston, who promised to pay 50 percent profit in ninety days on money invested with him. Thousands of people entrusted him with their money to a total of many millions of dollars. Now he is bankrupt and in prison, while his victims are sadder, but it is doubtful if they are wiser. The only safe road to wealth is along the cultivation and practice of habits of industry, frugality, perseverance and care. And even this road may not lead to the desired haven. But if it does not, there need be no regrets for travelling along such a road a person will at least have the satisfaction of accomplishing something, and leaving the world better than he found it.

Indications as to the relative degree of activity prevailing in business circles in Eastern and Western Canada are shown by various statistical tables for the month of July last, and these reveal the fact that, while development in the East is only about holding its own with last year, in the West very marked strides forward are being made with the building permits issued in July in 26 Eastern cities totalling $7,242,436 as compared with $6,919,444 in July, 1919, an increase of only $271,495, whereas in fourteen Western cities permits issued amounted to $5,086,650 as compared with $1,726,591 a year ago, or an increase of $3,372,055.

Several large Eastern manufacturing concerns have shut down portions of their plants temporarily, or have reduced their shifts, thus throwing a considerable number of men out of employment, one firm alone, which has run three shifts of workers for the past nine years, cutting the number to two and releasing 600 men from employment.

On the other hand, the annual influx of harvest hands into the West has brought thousands of young men here, and the banks are anticipating the need of generous assistance from the federal government in the task of financing the marketing and transportation of the 1920 grain crop which promises to be the best for some years past.

In this column some weeks ago the advice was tendered to all who could possibly do so to buy their winter's supply of coal and get it in storage during the summer months before the grain crop began pouring into the elevators for transportation to the lake ports. Those who followed this advice will unquestionably be glad of it, not only because they are assured of an adequate fuel supply in the face of a probable shortage, but because of the money they will have saved thereby as it now seems almost a certainty that there will be a decided increase in freight rates and a consequent substantial jump in the price of coal. In these modern and more commercial days the parable of the wise and foolish virgins still holds good. We call it "Preparedness" or taking time by the forelock, that is all.

Per-fects Aeroplane To Explore Africa

Easily Attains Speed of A Hundred Miles an Hour

A new type of hydro-aeroplane, operated by three helices, has been completed and will be marketed soon by Jean Latham, son of Hubert Latham, who two years before the war met his death while hunting in the Congo.

Scientists here prophesy that Mr. Latham's invention will greatly facilitate exploration work in the interior of France's colonies, as it combines three great factors—speed, carrying power and comparative lightness of equipment, and furthermore is able to use the smallest streams in case of accident.

The cabin contains room for four passengers, as well as compartments for reserve supplies of petrol, food, wireless apparatus and machine guns, all of which are in a hinged bark canoe body. All the machinery for the operation of the craft is above the heads of the passengers.

In trial tests the hydroplane, carrying three tons, mounted half a mile in four minutes, mile in eight minutes and three miles in thirty-four minutes. The speed test showed a maximum of a hundred miles an hour, which was easily attained.

High Prices at Cattle Fair

The Brandon Cattle Fair had its usual success and its value was keen and prices high. The highest price, Aberdeen Angus, "Blackbird of Glen-carrock," brought $3,000, and won the Female Grand Championship. The animal was retained to Canada by a Bowden, Alta., ranger. In all 65 Aberdeens Angus and 83 Shorthorns were sold.

KEEP CHILDREN WELL DURING HOT WEATHER

Every mother knows how fatal the hot summer months are to small children. Cholera infantum, diarrhoea, dysentery, colic and stomach troubles are life at this time and often a precious little life is lost after only a few hours illness. Tiesmother who keeps Baby's Own Tablets in the house feels safe. The occasional use of the Tablets prevents stomach and bowel troubles, or if the trouble comes suddenly—as it generally does—the Tablets will bring baby safely through. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Movies of Hudson Bay Country

The great naval seaplane of the Canadian Aero Film Company has left on an 800 mile trip to Hudson Bay, where pictures will be taken for the provincial government and a survey made for the Dominion Government. The plane is bound for Belcher Island on the west coast of Labrador in the Bay, and stops are being made at North Bay, Cochrane and Moose Factory.

Keep Thin in Middle Age

Corpulence May be Reduced by Abstaining from Fat Meats

Adding to the bulk of the body in middle age is risky. This does not mean that the diet should be Spartan. It must be simple and moderate. Tasty dishes tempt stout people to eat too freely. Corpulence may be reduced by abstaining from fat meats, sugar, soups and pastry. Bread and potatoes should be eaten rather sparingly. Fresh fruit and green vegetables may be taken in moderation. No sedentary middle-aged person can eat hearty meals habitually without impairing health and curtailing the span of years. The diet must be plain and digestible, and the quantity eaten limited strictly to the repair of tissue expended in work.

Three Hundred Patients on Hospital Ship are Drowned

Particulars have reached Stockholm of a terrible catastrophe which occurred on the Neva recently, when a hospital ship sank with 1,200 spotted typhus patients on board. It was an old German vessel. The patients were locked up in their cabins. Before the ship sank it was plundered by the Bolsheviks, who unconcernedly left the patients to their fate. About 300 are believed to have been drowned. Nothing is mentioned of the matter in the Bolshevik papers except that 200 of the crew perished.

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 1, 1929

For some time past the daily papers of the west have been taking a slap at the people of the Mennonite persuasion without taking the trouble to distinguish between different sects of the same organization thereby charging them all as law breakers and people who refuse to be controlled, especially in school matters. It has seemed to us that for these reasons some one should take on the church for those in this organization who are, and have proved themselves during the time of the big calamity, not only law abiding, but also patriotic. The editor of this paper has lived in this district for fifteen years, during which time he has had ample opportunity of knowing these people in this district in a business, official and private capacity. To say that because they are Mennonites they are the worst people without because of the designs of one part of their organization, as some of these bright editorials would have us believe, is to libel those who have helped to make this part of the west not only one of the best agricultural centers in Alberta, but have also taken their part in the active school and municipal affairs of the town to its betterment, and without reason in any way to imagine any Mennonite or strange ideas amongst themselves or others. As for personal purposes, we are concerned, they have always shown themselves to be as progressive as any Canadian, in fact Mr. Eph. Shantz, one of our early settlers, is a splendid member of our school board, and has been for years, and yet he is a Mennonite. Mr. I. Hecker is another exponent of the same organization who has been a valued member of the town council for some years, and there are many others who have shown their whole hearted support of Canada and its institutions in this district. It is nationally the cause of some of the sarcasm that I have written and it might be well to mention that the organization is composed of all nationalities, English, Scotch, Irish, Canadian, Russian or German, who can be proved right in this district. What the Mennonites may mean by any other part of the west we do not know, but we do know that in this district where there is a very low settlement of them, they have always been a hard working, thrifty, law abiding people, ready to do a good turn for anybody if in their power to do so, and at all times polite and gentlemanly in their individual business and private life.

"And nobody can spoil his work," said Gloss gently. "Dear old Bill!"

"Run along children," laughed Peeler. "I've got my pockets full of things that Paisley sent to town for silk thread, silk cloth—three dollars a yard; look here." He tapped one of his large, bulging pockets. "Bill's gone into the dress-making business, it seems."

Gloss clasped her brown hand and her eyes danced.

"Oh," she begged, "won't you let me come too? I want to see all those things. I surely do."

"Tut-tut," scolded Peeler, screwing up his face, "that wouldn't do at all, I'm tellin' too much. 'I'm a poor hand at keepin' secrets.'"

He plunged among the trees, his face frowning and his eyes laughing, and when he had put one of the wilder rides between himself and Gloss he clapped his hands and laughed like a boy.

"She don't know that Bill is gettin' all this costly finery for her, bless her," he murmured, wiping his eyes. "She don't suspect a thing—not a thing. God bless her dear heart. Ah, but all the silver fox hides in all this big woods couldn't make a coat good enough for our girl, let alone six as Bill has. But it's Bill's little wish," he added; "it's just Bill's little wish. And Bill's one of God's big men."

Bill scarcely looked his part on this particular evening. Peeler found him sitting just outside his house, his sleeves rolled up to his elbows, and his shrewy arms shining with bear-oil. Across his seamed face were a number of greasy smears, left there by brushing away a troublesome mosquito. Between his teeth he gripped a short clay pipe. At his feet lay a pile of traps, tangled together and red with rust.

"Got back, eh?" he grinned, as Peeler approached. "Get them things, Jim?"

"Sure Bill," and Peeler commenced emptying his pockets.

"Jim," said Paisley, "I guess I'd best have your good wife help me out on this coat. I thought maybe she'd do the linin'. Suppose she would?"

"Do I suppose? Well, I do better," answered Peeler. "I know she will." "Then don't empty out 'til you get home. I'll drop over tomorrow night. I've got to get these traps in shape if I'm going to do any trapping this season. What'd you see over at Bridgetown, Jim?"

"Just a few that Declate wants over to his launch," answered Peeler, seating himself on a bench, "and that man Smythe who keeps the store."

"What do you think 'o that fellow?"

Paisley made a dip for the pot of bear-oil and started scrubbing another trap.

"Well, I don't just think I'm takin' to him much," replied Peeler. "I don't like the way he has of shinin' his eyes, and he always seems to be expectin' somebody. He sort of makes me nervous. He tried to find out all about every person that lives here, but I wasn't sayin' much. Now, how I wish Tom Grey hadn't sold out his store to this fellow, Bill. I don't know why, but I can't take to him."

"Ishaw," grunted Paisley, "I guess we're all too quick at takin' dislikes. I'll own I feel pretty much the same as you. Did he tell you that he was hand in hand with Watson? I have not seen Watson yet, but I'm anxious to meet him."

"He was addin' me about Wilder Ross," said Peeler. "Wanted to know how much property she owned, and all that. Said that he liked her—what he had seen of her."

"Bushwhacker no shoot, no kill big man. That mean bad, bad for bushwhacker. Bushwhacker wait—wait and see." And before I could ask him anything he was gone."

"He come mysterious and he goes mysterious," said Peeler slowly, "but I reckon he knows even more than we do about old Hallibut and his gang."

He arose and walked toward the path. "Will you come over to Big Mac's? Bill, he asked."

"Sure, I will."

Paisley dove into the house, washed his hands and face, threw on a jacket, and came forth a bright and smiling six feet of manhood.

"I'm wantin' to see the little sick woman," said Peeler, "and hear Big Mac's fiddle again."

"Boy was here this mornin'," said Bill as the two struck off down the path, "and he says the ma is awful sick. I guess she won't be stayin' long."

When the men reached the McTavish home night had fallen, and a big moon was fitting her face from the forest far eastward.

A damp wind off the bay bore on its wings the scent of bog and marsh, and from high overhead came the wing-sounds of idling wild ducks. From inside came the music of the fiddle playing "Ye Banks and Braes."

Finest Thing Ever For Chronic Catarrh!

Gets Away From the Medicine Habit, Cures by Novel Method

With the many remedies you have tried you surely know that no liquid medicine can cure your throat or nose. Even a gargle only lathers the entrance of the throat—it can't really get inside, nor can it reach the jammed bronchial tubes.

With Catarrhose it's so different from medicine-taking — you simply breathe its healing vapor, inhale its balsamic fumes, which carry cure and relief to the minutest air cells in the lungs, nose, throat, and bronchial tubes.

In this scientific way the soreness and inflammation is rapidly allayed, relaxed cords are toned up, the entire mucous membrane invigorated. Every trace of catarrh disappears, the disagreeable dripping of mucus in the throat, hawking, and stoned-up nostrils — all these sure signs of catarrh and bronchitis are permanently cured by Catarrhose.

Large outfit lasts two months, costs $10.00; small size 50 cents, trial size 5 cents, at dealers everywhere.

Paisley dropped his trap and started through the twilight at his friend.

"Buy gun!" he exclaimed, "what do you think of that?"

"He told me quite a lot of things about Colonel Hallibut," said Peeler, coming over and standing himself close besides Paisley. "Bill, it looks as if Hallibut was bound to scoop us off this place. Smythe says he is a bad man to hinder, once he has made up his mind. He says as both him and Watson is in sympathy with us, and if we'll only let us we're agreeable to leave, that him and Watson'll see he don't get hold of the leasest."

Paisley took his pipe from his mouth and laid it on a nearby block.

"He said," he said, "I don't know this man. Smythe's very well, but you can bet on this—the man's a liar. Him and Watson are hand in hand with old Hallibut, and it's my impression they're all a pack of rascals. Hallibut threatens to drive us into the bay if we refuse to be reasonable."

as he calls it. I was talkin' to one of the fellers who runs that mill of his this afternoon, and he says Hallibut rides over to Bridgetown most every day and lays plans with Smythe and Watson. He said as today Hallibut intended goin' over there. Didn't see him, I suppose."

Peeler shook his head.

"No, but I met Watson tonight—him and Simpson."

"There you are," cried Paisley; "there you are. Watson intended to come here today, and you can bet that old rascal Hallibut has a hand in anything Watson does."

"Then you think these fellers are goin' to try some funny work, do you Bill?"

"Jim," answered Paisley, "it's my opinion that there's goin' to be trouble here soon. These people have laid plans to get our woods, and of course we'll naturally see that they don't. But what I'm afraid of is that Boy McTavish is goin' to kill some-body here. You know what he's like, Jim, so I want to ask you to do this: no matter what you see or hear, don't tell Boy. I've just about raised him, you might say, and I know his moods. There's enough trouble over there at Big Mac's now. If we just keep cool everything'll come out right. We'll keep our eyes and ears open, and whatever we see or hear we'll try to meet without Boy knowin' anything about it. What d'ye say, Jim?"

"Sure," answered Peeler. "I think same's you, Bill. It won't do to be too hasty if things come to the worst, which I hope they won't."

"Amen to that," said Paisley fervently. "I trust there'll be no trouble, Jim. Old Injun Noah was here today, and I could see that something was worryin' him. You know he won't talk—only to Gloss; so I could not get anything out of him."

"When old Noah worries there's something in the wind alright," said Peeler. "Good old Noah!"

"He stayed here with me quite a time," said Paisley, "and he never said a word till he was leavin'. Then he said:

"'Bushwhacker no shoot, no kill big man. That mean bad, bad for bushwhacker. Bushwhacker wait—wait and see.' And before I could ask him anything he was gone."

"He come mysterious and he goes mysterious," said Peeler slowly, "but I reckon he knows even more than we do about old Hallibut and his gang."

WIDE TRIBUNAL FOR MAINTAINING PEACE OF WORLD

INTERNATIONAL LAW COURT

Viscount Cave Advocates Standing Tribunal to Interpret and Administer the Law

St. Louis, Mo.—A plea for an international tribunal of justice to secure world order, freedom and peace, was made by Viscount Cave in an address before the convention of the American Bar association.

"It is surely time," the Viscount said, "that all the civilized nations should combine to set up a court of international law. There can be no effective international law until there is some standing tribunal composed of men of outstanding ability who have the confidence of the civilized world and are authorized on the application of any nation aggrieved to interfere and administer the law."

"I hope that not too sanguine in believing that the foundation of such a tribunal was well and truly laid, on the last day of July last, I am in no way concerned today with an question which is rather, is not at this moment in perfect harmony with the League of Nations. Let there be no misunderstanding, but come into effect and international law will elucidate it."

Warning against revolution, Viscount Cave declared revolutionary trouble threatened England, but predicted England would "pull through." Sir Auckland Geddes, British ambassador to the United States, in an address, pictured the Bolsheviks as enemies of democracy. He prefaced his address with a denial of charges of Congressional Britain, Illinois, that Great Britain has appropriated approximately $87,500 to be used in this country for democratic committee purposes.

Necessity of Conserving Fish
Vancouver, B. C.—That he fully appreciated the necessity of conserving the fish of the Pacific Coast by all means possible, though he did not favor handing the administration of the British Columbia fisheries over to the provincial government there, was the assurance which Hon. C. C. Balfour, federal minister of marine and fisheries, gave Hon. William Sloan, minister of mines and commerce for British Columbia, during a conference with the fisheries minister.

GIRLS! DRAW A

MOIST CLOTH THROUGH HAIR

Let "Danderine" save your hair and double its beauty

Oh, girls, you are fond of thick, heavy, wavy-haired hair, a perfect mass of wavy, silky hair, gloriously fluffy, bright and so easy to manage.

Just moisten a cloth with a little "Danderine" and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; this magically removes all dirt, excess oil and grease, but your hair is not left brittle, dry, straggly or faded, but charmingly soft, with glossy golden gleams and tender tints. The youthful curls, tints and color are again in your hair.

"Danderine" is a hair-beautifier. Besides doubling the beauty of the hair at once, it checks dandruff and stops falling hair. Get delicate Danderine for a few cents at any drug or toilet counter and use it as a dressing and invigorator as told on the bottle.

Want Protection Against Harvesters

Protest Made to Dominion Government of Travelling Conditions of Harvesters

Cochrane, Ont.—Strong protests have been made to the Dominion government by the local board of trade regarding the conditions under which harvesters to the west travel, following the recent trouble at Kapuskasing and O'Brien. The board thinks that for "seriously perished districts like ours," there should be some special protection provided, and urges "immediate action to compel a complete change in the mode of travel in these harvesters and also to afford protection to the localities effected so as to obviate residents of such localities having to take the law into their own hands and protect their property and lives at the point of the gun."

HEART SO BAD WAS NOT SAFE TO LEAVE HER ALONE

Miss Eva P. Valentine, Rogers, don't get angry. "I feel that I must write and tell you of the heart I have received from Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. About four years ago I was taken terribly ill, had with my heart, nerves and stomach, and was down in bed for about six months. I doctored with two different doctors and seemed to get better, but each time I was worse. I could not eat, I could not sleep, I could not move. I would take such terrible pills, but never I was that I was not safe to leave alone any time. At last I decided to try to remedy my condition and took several different kinds, but received no results but little benefit from them. One day, noticing the advertisement of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, I decided to try them, and before I had taken more than two boxes I could see they were doing me. I have taken about ten boxes and I almost feel like a new woman. I have never felt so well in my life. I have never been so happy and I feel like a new woman. I have never felt so well in my life. I have never been so happy and I feel like a new woman. I have never felt so well in my life. I have never been so happy and I feel like a new woman."

Harvesting the Wheat Crop

Binder and Thresher Heard from One End of the West to The Other

Winnipeg.—Assisted by 30,000 harvesters from eastern Canada, the farmers of the prairie provinces are taking off their crops. The sound of the binder and the thresher is heard from one end of this western country to the other, according to a report of the Canadian National railways dealing with conditions along their lines.

Most points good favorable reports. There appears to have been little damage from hail and rust, and only one or two points report any damage from frost. Generally, speaking, the weather is favorable for harvesting, and for the ripening of late grain crops.

Points in Manitoba report that great progress has been made in cutting up to the end of last week, and threshing was general. In some districts cutting was completed, in others from 15 to 30 percent of this work was done. For a while reports a large acreage destroyed by fire. Reports coming in show cutting to only fair, Saskatchewan's cutting is in full swing, and threshing has commenced in many places, except in a few points where rain has delayed the harvesting.

Successfully Plug Gas Well

Calgary, Alta.—The gas well of the Canadian Cement company, which has been blowing wild for five or six years, has been finally plugged by a field of the mining lands, and Yukon branch of the Dominion government, after efforts of noted engineers from all over the continent had failed. Over 5,000 cubic feet of mud was pumped into the well.

Openings For Canadian Cadets

DESTRUCTION OF SOVIET ARMIES NOW COMPLETE

POLES TAKE 80,000 PRISONERS

Great Quantity of Guns and Ammunition Fall into Hands of The Poles

Paris.—The destruction of the Bolshevik armies now may be considered complete, according to advices received here. Of the host which swept down on Warsaw, nothing is left but 30,000 fugitives. The Poles have taken 80,000 prisoners thus far, but what is more important they have captured great quantities of guns and materials.

During the past three days there has been heavy fighting in the marshy valleys of the Narva between Ostroldo and Lomax, where the Red sought to break through in the direction of Bielsk. The losses have been heavy on both sides. On August 23 the Poles carried all the passages of the river. The Prussian frontier as far as Mysyniec is now occupied by the Poles. All the Red troops west of the line of Osovsk and Grodno, Mysyniec have been captured. The exact number of cannon abandoned is not yet known. Detachments of cavalry and infantry which escaped proceeded northward, along the line of the lakes and marshes between the fortresses of Ostroldo and Grodno. The detachment crossed the Dnieper and occupied Stryp. This detachment sought to destroy the Bolsheviks, but was driven off by local workmen. In the region of Cholm, a Bolshevik attack was repelled by troops occupied to the right of the Bug.

Profiting by the regrouping of the Polish army, the Reds again invaded Galicia. General Bledny was a dash for Lemberg but has been defeated and is in flight. Another detachment crossed the Dnieper and occupied Stryp. This detachment sought to destroy the Bolsheviks, but was driven off by local workmen. In the region of Cholm, a Bolshevik attack was repelled by troops occupied to the right of the Bug.

Will Carefully Preserve All Documents Relating to Ex-Members Of the Army

Ottawa.—The Canadian expeditionary force is no more.

The fourteen N.C.O.'s who were employed to conduct the statistical work of the army have written "30" on the concluding page of a mass of records covering every unit and every man who ever donned a Canadian uniform. In this manner they have kept of every individual man would come as a surprise to even the soldier whose records they are. The militia department has original and duplicates of about twenty-one army forms relating to every one who served. About 100,000 copies have been done with the thousands of apparently useless books and army forms, a militia department official stated that they would be carefully preserved and locked away.

Near Millionaire Hits Didsbury

About two or three weeks ago a short, dark man unloaded from a north bound train and went to the Rosebud Hotel, all of which is nothing unusual or out of the ordinary. However, he divulged the information that he had money to burn, but during his several days' sojourn here he failed to start any confabulations. The smallest amount that he was supposed to be able to try his hands at at a moment's notice was only a million bucks, and his reputed wealth in a few days reached the trivial sum of forty millions. He was perfectly willing to see the country and of course some of our enthusiastic real estate men were dubious and determined that he should see it, particularly as he wanted a small patch of land of about five or six sections to amuse himself with in raising pure bred bull dogs, Angora cats and Canary birds. He bought a few sections of land, paying nothing down, and also invested in a couple of automobiles, then wanted to buy the whole package. He was once citizen and a most acceptable acquisition to our entertainment life play. He was spending money like water, buying new collars one at a time and changing them in the store where he made the purchases, and objecting to paying his hotel bill on the American plan. He was especially putting a big bunch of his millions, that he received as revenue from a large copper mine in Nevada, into circulation on his assets. He was surely making a hit in Didsbury. Then one day he wanted to go to Yellowstone to bring one of the cars he had bought, by a couple of our accommodating citizens loaded the millionaire into a car and rammed to the city. But misfortune overtook his richness, and he was taken to one of the hospitals, seriously ill. He was to have been operated on in a day or two later, but on the day before the operation was to have taken place, he either woke up or ran out of stage, and disappeared from the hospital, probably going back to his old job at the stock yards. Thus ended the short career of Didsbury's millionaire.

A Cure For Sleeplessness

The other day a medical man, consulted by a patient who feared insomnia, instead of prescribing the expected drug, merely told his patient how to sleep. The threatened insomnia was banished.

One should lie on the right side—not because of this effects the heart, but because it relieves pressure on the digestive organs. But the right side is not a "full right." There should be a slight tilt to the left, so that the right shoulder blade, and not just the shoulder, takes the weight.

The proper position is to elevate the feet three inches or so higher than the head, and just to "cock" the legs slightly. Head pillows should not be used, or but just a small one. And that should come under the neck. Nature's pillow is the sleeper's own right arm, curved.

Bed clothing should be just sufficient for warmth. Overweight or over tightness—some sheets are tucked in too tightly—induce restlessness, which may easily develop into insomnia, which is as much a habit as a disease.

Each individual has a nervous system which in his own, and unlike any one else's. It is, therefore, advisable in the case of persistent inability to sleep, to move the bedstead. Try an east west position, instead of north-south, or vice versa.

The sleeping result may surprise you.

It's a Long Operation

Poking a bit of fun at the announcement made by a researcher in the field of precious gems, a writer in the San Francisco Argonaut says:

"What a lot of things there are that one does not know. For example, we did not know that opals are of vegetable origin. We knew that they were unlucky—unlucky not to have any—but we were unaware that they grow on trees, so to speak.

Dreams of unimaginable wealth fitted through our minds when we read of this. How about an opal orchard? Perhaps the Department of Agriculture might help us. We imagine ourselves sitting out on the back porch, sometimes thinking, sometimes just sitting and watching the crop coming along and the little baby opals bursting their buds or whatever it is that buds do.

But, as usual there was disappointment. It is true that opals come from trees, but of all the darning slow crops—but there, nuff said. Why it takes something like four million years for the crop to mature. First you plant your trees, or take some trees that are already planted. Almost any old tree seem to do. Then you wait for an earthquake to jounce along, uproot your tree, bury it deep underground, and turn your miserable opal land into a swamp. Nature, we're told with a fine assurance, will do the rest. Yes, she will, and in her own time, too. Come back in four million years and dig up your old tree. But you will not feel in any particular hurry by that time and you may as well sit around and wait for another earthquake. If you are lucky and the fertilizer was all right you will find that your tree is encrusted with wonderful opals. Lakes of it, says the illustrious scientific report, flashing brilliant tones of red, orange, blue and green, with dark specimens carrying what look to be volcanic fires in glowing orange, reds.

Well, opal raising may be all right for eternity, but it don't seem adapted to time. We shall either give up the idea or look for some improved lots that were started by the ante-diluvians."
